COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT (JURY DEMAND)

For its Complaint against Defendant, Bell's Precision Grinding,

Plaintiff, Jack Lemkin states as follows:

PARTIES

1- Jack Lemkin ("Lemkin") is an individual residing at 37 Meadowlark Ln. Columbus, OH, 43214 and the owner of Patent

No. 7,229,265, (the "265" patent). Ex-1.

2-Upon information and belief, Defendant, Bell's Precision Grinding ("Bell") is Michigan Company having a place of business at 6566 Burroughs Ave, Sterling Heights, Michigan 48314 and is offering products for sale in the United States and in this Judicial district both directly and through agents and Distributors under the trademark "Bell".

JURISDICTION

3-This action arises under the Patent Laws of the United States, Title 35 United States Code § 271(a). This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1338(a).

4-Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b).

BACKGROUND

Mold Locks are an alignment device (see ex-1) that are used to accurately align the two halves of an Injection Mold. They were introduced in the industry several years ago and their use is increasing each year. "Lemkin" recognized the need for improving their life expectancy and developed a design incorporating grease grooves in the wear surfaces thus minimizing metal-to-metal contact, which is the primary wear mechanism.

"Lemkin" filed for and was granted the "265" Patent.

Several large companies have copied the design including Misumi of Japan (see Ex-2), who recognizing the validity of the Patent, agreed not to ship to the US. "Bell" has incorporated this design element into there line of Mold Locks. "Lemkin" met with "Bell" in Sterling Heights, reviewed Bell's inventory and pointed out that "Bell" was Infringing Claim No.12 of the "265"

Patent. "Lemkin" had numerous subsequent conversations with

"Bell" attempting to resolve this issue, with no response. In July,

2008 "Lemkin" notified "Bell" that he would file an infringement suit unless Bell agreed to a Licensing arrangement. Again,

"Bell" did not respond and so this complaint is being reluctantly filed.

COUNT 1: INFRINGEMENT OF U.S.PATENT NO. 7,229,265

5-Plaintiff incorporate by reference herein the allegations of Paragraphs 1-4 of this Complaint.

6- Lemkin is an inventor and the author or co-author of over one hundred patents. Lemkin is the inventor of Patent No. 7,229,265 for Mold Locks with Lubricating Grooves, A true and accurate copy of the "265" Patent is attached as Exhibit 1.

7- "Bell" has infringed and continues to infringe the "265" Patent through its manufacture, sale, and/or distributing products covered by the "265" patent directly and thru its agents and distributors. One such product, illustrated in the attached Ex-3, is the Bell Side Lock, Incorporating Grease Grooves covered by, and infringing on the "265" Patent.

8- Bell's infringement of the "265" Patent has and continues to directly and proximately cause damages to Plaintiff in an amount to be proven at trial.

9- Upon information and belief, Defendant's manufacture, sale, offer for sale and distributing of the products covered by the "265" Patent will continue to cause plaintiff damage and irreparable harm unless enjoined by this Court. Plaintiff's Company, Sinltron, produces Mold Locks with Grease Grooves (Ex-4) and It's sales have been reduced by this illegal competition.
